

Brief Synopsis
Star of Dave

Star of Dave tells the story of Dave Robinson who has just about everything going for him. He's young, handsome, rich and has a successful career as a hedge fund manager on Wall Street. Dave is a charming guy and attracts the most desirable young women in the city including famous supermodels. But things even get better from there. It's Christmas and Dave is given a huge bonus and is made a junior partner in the company. His bosses encourage him to get married and have a family – it will give him a more solid image. He proposes to Mellie, his current girlfriend who is a famous model, and she accepts. But as the days march on toward Christmas, he realizes that something is drastically wrong. Despite a life that any guy would envy, Dave is just not happy.

Dave starts to notice a bright star off in the dark sky that seems to beckon to him. His fiancée doesn't see it and at first he thinks that the stress of his life is getting to him. But the star continues to pulsate and one night emanates a stream of light that seems to be shining down on the city. He follows the starlight which leads him to a homeless shelter in Queens. He can't believe the long line of people – kids and families – waiting to get a free meal.

Dave visits the center just on the notion that he'll drop off a donation but that visit changes his life forever. Not only is his heart touched by the needy people in the shelter it is touched by Beth, the beautiful and dedicated young woman who runs the center. Dave's journey to a more meaningful and happy life is not without its obstacles. But in the end, he realizes that following the starlight that one night was the best move he ever made.
